XAVIERA HOLLANDER PRESENTS:

Saul Reichlin Roots Shmoots!

Abundant in all the wisdom and humour of the shtetl

Come and see Saul Reichlin's superb new show, abundant in all the wisdom and humour of the shtetl. Follow the hilarious adventures of Sholom Aleichem, himself, as he returns to the place of his birth to visit his roots. Such a trip would not be complete, however, without a special appearance by Tevye the Milkman and Menachem Mendel, the matchmaker!

It is the treasured and timeless world of Sholom Aleichem, the genius whose stories became FIDDLER ON THE ROOF. Saul Reichlin, one of the great interpreters of Sholom Aleichem's work toured his first production, NOW YOU'RE TALKING!, for 5 years, playing to full houses in 36 cities in 8 countries, including Off Broadway. Last spring he even drew during one entire week wildly enthusiastic crowds at Xaviera Hollander's home theatre in Marbella with his show "Now you're talking".

Reviews:

"inspirational... a brilliant and flawless performance... The most exciting Jewish storytelling in the world!" Edinburgh Jewish Telegraph

"A master class in oral storytelling for actors" Show Business New York

"Reichlin is a veritable force of nature ... loving, entertaining ... it is most infectious." Chris Jones Chicago Tribune June 2004

"Astonishing, Hilarious, a Towering Performance" London Evening Standard Critics' Choice

About Saul Reichlin

Saul played the British Conservative Party leader, Michael Howard, in the Really Useful Group production, WHO'S THE DADDY? winner of the 2005 Best New Comedy Award at the King's Head Theatre. At the Royal National Theatre Saul played the leading role of Valentine in Love for Love, and narrated THE THREE PENNY OPERA. In 2001 he was nominated Best Actor for his performance as Josef Mashkan in OLD WICKED SONGS (a Pieter Toerien production). He has also won Best Director Award for his own production of THE PURIFICATION by Tennessee Williams. For Oscar - winning director, Anthony Minghella (The English Patient) Saul created the role of Robert, Earl of Oxford in the world premiere of Minghella's TWO PLANKS AND A PASSION.
